Via offers free rides to/from Adult Center

Eagle View Adult Center and Via Mobility Services have teamed up to offer free rides to and from the Eagle View Adult Center in 2019.

Thanks to donor support, Via was able to add a shuttle this year to provide transportation for people who use the Eagle View facility, the city announced in a news release.

Riders are still required to register, make reservations and follow all cancellation rules of the service.

The yearlong, free shuttle service is estimated to cost around $17,000 and was made possible through proceeds from Turkey Trot and fundraisers the Senior Advisory Board holds throughout the year, such as the annual Spaghetti Luncheon, scheduled for March, the November Craft Fair and donations. All funds raised throughout the year at Eagle View are intended to be used for services and programs for seniors in Brighton.

In 2018, Via provided more than 4,000 round trips to the Adult Center. It also provided rides for medical appointments, grocery shopping and other miscellaneous errands that Brighton residents need assistance getting to.

Via is not just a service for seniors in the community. It is a door-to-door service for anyone who needs a ride around Brighton.

Call 303-447-2848 or visit www.viacolorado.org for more information about eligibility and service routes.
