Police investigate rollover accident

Brighton Police are investigating a rollover accident in which a female was ejected from a small pickup truck at 160th Avenue and the Interstate 76 frontage road.

Police withheld the name and age of the victim, who was transported to the hospital with serious injuries. The report stated she had been ejected from the vehicle. Officers were sent to the scene at 6:12 a.m. after passers-by noticed the vehicle in the field.

The accident is still under investigation, police said, and the department is asking anyone who might have witnessed the accident to contact Detective Kevin Hathaway at 303-655-2273.

the 2017 Adams County Open Space Sales Tax, which was approved by Adams County voters in 1999.

The Open Space Advisory Board reviewed 18 grant applications during the spring grant cycle, recommending that the County Board of Commissioners approve 15 of the projects for full funding, and two projects for partial funding, with grant awards totaling $5,082,490.

"Our local parks and open spaces are staples in Adams County and we are honored to support these projects that will continue to grow and strengthen our community," County Board Chairman Mary Hodge said.

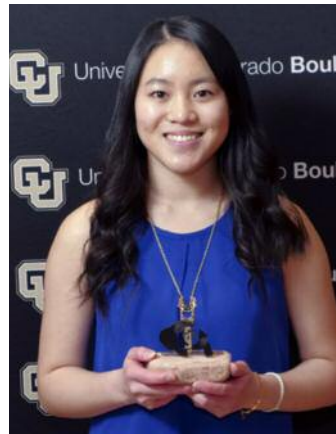

"The awards made today will provide better trail connectivity, restore riparian areas, and improve park and recreation amenities within the county."

CU recognizes BHS junior Ung

Brighton High School junior Elizabeth Ung has been recognized by the University of Colorado-Boulder as a recipient of the Outstanding Colorado Junior Student Award. The award recognizes juniors from high schools in Colorado who have exemplified academic excellence, leadership and school and community service.

Ung has been awarded a $4,000 scholarship to attend CU-Boulder.

"School communities came together
